International Transport Masters Scholarships 2017

The Institute for Transport Studies (ITS) at the University of Leeds invites applications for fees scholarships worth £8875. The scholarships will fund 50% of the tuition fees for international students to undertake a full-time Masters degree programme and are intended to provide development opportunities to students of outstanding ability, achievement and potential.

Institute for Transport Studies

ITS is globally recognised as one of the world’s largest and most successful University departments for transport teaching and research. ITS Masters programmes are accredited by leading professional bodies and equip students with the practical skills for progression to a range of professional-level careers in the transport industries. Scholarship applications can be made for any of the six programmes:

- MSc Mathematical Modelling for Transport
- MSc Sustainability in Transport
- MSc Transport Economics
- MSc Transport Planning
- MSc Transport Planning and the Environment
- MSc (Eng) Transport Planning and Engineering

Scholarship eligibility

Applicants must first hold an offer (conditional or unconditional) of an academic place on an ITS Masters programme for the academic year commencing September 2017, and be designated by the University as being of international fee status. All scholarship applications will be assessed on a competitive basis. A scholarship award cannot be deferred and will lapse if not taken up in September 2017.

Value of the scholarship

The scholarships provide a 50% tuition fee waiver for the 2017-18 academic year (equivalent to the value of £8875 for international students).

Scholarship application process

Applicants should submit the ITS scholarship form, including a statement of 500 words on how a Masters degree would enable them to make a difference to transportation (e.g. in their country, region or area) and specifically to tackle a significant problem or issue.

Scholarship application deadline

Applications should be submitted to ITS no later than 22nd June 2017.
